Article entitled:
(“work” or “article”)

Author/s:
(also referred to as “Licensor/s”)

Corresponding author,
e-mail:

Journal name: ARTIFICIAL SATELLITES Journal of Planetary Geodesy

Journal owner: Centrum Badań Kosmicznych Polskiej Akademii Nauk, ul. Bartycka 18A, 00-716 Warszawa

1. License

The use of the article will be governed by the Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 International (CC BY 4.0) license as currently displayed on <https://creativecommons.org/licenses/by/4.0/>; sections 2 through 8 below will apply in this respect insofar as they are not in conflict with any provisions of such license model. Without prejudice to the foregoing, the author hereby grants the Journal Owner the license for commercial use of the article (for U.S. government employees: to the extent transferable) according to section 2 below, and sections 4 through 9 below, throughout the world, in any form, in any language, for the full term of copyright, effective upon acceptance for publication.

2. Author’s Warranties

The author warrants that the article is original, written by stated author/s, has not been published before, contains no unlawful statements, does not infringe the rights of others, is subject to copyright that is vested exclusively in the author and free of any third party rights, and that any necessary written permissions to quote from other sources have been obtained by the author/s.

3. User Rights

Under the Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 International (CC BY 4.0) license, the users (who are defined hereunder explicitly as persons or entities other than the Author or the Journal Owner) are free to share (copy, distribute and transmit the contribution) under the following conditions: they must attribute the contribution in the manner specified by the author or licensor.

4. Rights of Authors

Authors retain all their rights, without restricting it in any way, and in particular they have the right to:

- copyright, and other proprietary rights relating to the article, such as patent rights,
- the right to use the substance of the article in future own works, including lectures and books,
- the right to reproduce the article for own purposes,
- the right to self-archive the article.

5. Co-Authorship

If the article was prepared jointly with other authors, the signatory of this form warrants that he/she has been authorized by all co-authors to sign this Agreement on their behalf and agrees to inform his/her co-authors of the terms of this Agreement.

6. Termination

This Agreement can be terminated by the author or the Journal Owner upon two months’ notice where the other party has materially breached this Agreement and failed to remedy such breach within a month of being given the terminating party’s notice requesting such breach to be remedied. No breach or violation of this Agreement will cause this Agreement or any license granted in it to terminate automatically or affect the definition of the Journal Owner. The first fixed term of this Agreement shall be 5 years, after which this Agreement shall transform into Agreement for indefinite period of time. The parties agree that the parties will be obligated to refrain from terminating this Agreement before the lapse of forty (40) years of the date of this Agreement, after which this Agreement can be freely terminated by the author or the Journal Owner upon two years' notice. The author and the Journal Owner may agree to terminate this Agreement at any time. This Agreement or any license granted in it cannot be terminated otherwise than in accordance with this section 6.

7. Royalties

This Agreement entitles the author to no royalties or other fees. To such extent as legally permissible, the author waives his or her right to collect royalties relative to the article in respect of any use of the article by the Journal Owner or its sublicensee.

8. Miscellaneous

The Journal Owner will publish the article (or have it published) in the Journal, if the article's editorial process is successfully completed and the Journal Owner or its sublicensee has become obligated to have the article published. Where such obligation depends on the payment of a fee, it shall not be deemed to exist until such time as that fee is paid. The Journal Owner may conform the article to a style of punctuation, spelling, capitalization and usage that it deems appropriate. The author acknowledges that the article may be published so that it will be publicly accessible and such access will be free of charge for the readers. The Journal Owner will be allowed to sublicense the rights that are licensed to it under this Agreement. This Agreement will be governed by the laws of Poland and be subject to jurisdiction of Polish courts, competent for the place where Journal Owner registered office is located.

9. Scope of the Commercial License (fields of exploitation)

For the avoidance of doubt, the right and license granted under this Agreement to the Journal Owner for commercial use is as follows:

- a. to prepare, reproduce using any technique, in particular by means of digital, analogue, electronic, magnetic, polygraphic, reprographic, computer, video, printing, handwriting techniques, manufacture, publish, distribute, exhibit, advertise, promote, license and sublicense printed and electronic copies of the article, through the Internet and other means of data transmission now known or later to be developed; the foregoing will include abstracts, bibliographic information, illustrations, pictures, indexes and subject headings and other proprietary materials contained in the article,
- b. placing on the market and distribution, lending, sharing and free transfer of the original or copies,
- c. to exercise, license, and sub-license others to exercise subsidiary and other rights in the article, including the right to photocopy, scan or reproduce copies thereof, to reproduce excerpts from the article in other works, and to reproduce copies of the article as part of compilations with other works, including collections of materials made for use in classes for instructional purposes, customized works, electronic databases, document delivery, and other information services, and publish, distribute, exhibit and license the same.

The Journal Owner will be entitled to enforce in respect of third parties, to such extent as permitted by law, the rights licensed to it under this Agreement.

If the article was written in the course of employment by the US or UK Government, and/or arises from NIH funding, please consult the Journal Owner for further instructions.

This Agreement is entered into in document form, by means of electronic transmission of a scanned copy of the signed Agreement by each Party to the other Party. Each amendment of this Agreement shall be made document form, or otherwise shall be null and void.
